

Immediate Implant Placement: Strategies for Predictable Esthetics

Immediate implant placement (IIP) following tooth extraction is one of the treatment options that are proposed in the anterior maxilla to preserve the vertical height of the facial plate of bone and interdental papilla. However slight facial gingival recession has been reported. Most of these soft tissue changes are responsible for non-esthetic outcomes and can continue after implant therapy on a long-term basis.